

August 11, 2008

Dear Sir or Madam:

I have had the pleasure of knowing Evan Briscall for approximately two years. He was employed for me at the 2007 Grand Prix of Edmonton. As his direct supervisor, I was more than impressed with his ability to mold himself to any situation. With little or no experience related to his position, he managed to pull together and be the leader of his fellow employees. Within no time, he picked up everything he was taught and managed to follow through with little or no supervision necessary.

Evan has since become a close friend with whom I feel confident is an incredibly trustworthy person. Evan possesses a genuine personality which is prevalent in all aspects of his life, being personal or business. Evan is intelligent, dedicated, and always quick on his feet. Evan has sensible reactions in all the circumstances I've seen him in. I feel confident in saying that he is capable of handling any situation with thoughtfulness and maturity.

I would highly recommend Evan for any position he puts his mind towards. With his ability to learn quickly and efficiently, Evan would blossom in any scenario. I wish Evan the best of luck in all his endeavors, as he is a highly gifted individual in which one should be proud to be associated with.

Sincerest Regards,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Amanda Murrin".

Amanda Murrin