To whom it may concern: Testimony, MR Evan Briscall

I met Evan Briscall in 2010 when he did training with our organization, Foundation for Cross cultural Education (FCE), in South Africa. Since that time we are in contact with each other. Evan returned earlier this year to work in the Media Department of FCE.

I can give the following account of Evan.

Character

He naturally wants to serve people. He enjoys people and love to be in the company of people. He has a very pleasant personality, which makes it easy to work with him.

He is a person with integrity and someone you can trust.

Work ethic

He enjoys work. His work is of very high and excellent standard. Once you have assigned a task you can be sure that goals will be met. He engaged in this process with intensity to ensure that the highest standards are met. He has the ability to illustrate creative ideas. He is also skilled to integrate these ideas with the creative software of his choice.

General

He is a very enjoyable person who has a very positive life view. It is fun to have him around.

I can gladly recommend Evan Briscall as a person that will add value to a work environment.

Please don't hesitate to contact for any other enquiries.

Yours sincerely
